Control Releases Cost-Effective 10-Port Managed Switch for Industrial and Traffic Applications

MINNEAPOLIS, Minnesota — June 21, 2011—Control Corporation, a leading manufacturer of industrial device connectivity products, today announced the release of the RocketLinx ES8510-XTE to its industrial switch product line. The RocketLinx ES8510-XTE is a fully managed industrial-grade switch equipped with seven 10/100BASE-TX ports and three RJ45/SFP combo (10/100BASE-TX, 100BASE-FX) uplink ports.

The RocketLinx ES8510-XTE is housed in a rugged, IP31 rated aluminum enclosure that features an excellent heat dispersing mechanical design and a wide -40° to 85°C, NEMA TS2 certified operating temperature. The embedded software supports full Layer 2 management features, RSTP and ring redundancy, web management and monitoring, security, and event notification.

“Our goal with releasing this product is to fulfill customer requests for a cost effective 10/100BASE-TX version of our successful RocketLinx ES8510-XT industrial gigabit switch,” says Rob Iten, Director of Sales at Control. “The RocketLinx ES8510-XTE allows our customers operating 10/100 megabit networks to utilize the same extended temperature and enhanced management features of the RocketLinx ES8510 industrial switches in a more economical package.”

With industry leading management features, rugged industrial design, and NEMA TS2 certification, the RocketLinx ES8510-XTE provides the perfect foundation for supporting industrial Ethernet and traffic and transportation infrastructures.
